

MEDITERRANEAN COLLEGE
Excellence In Education
Founded in 1977

Mediterranean College is the first University College in Greece (1977) operating according to standards of countries with a tradition in higher education, such as the United Kingdom. It is recognised by the Greek Ministry of Education and accredited by the BAC (British Accreditation Council), as an institution providing higher education. Degrees are professionally equivalent to the ones awarded by State Universities and are also recognised by the UK NARIC (which is like DOATAP). Finally, the College is reviewed by the QAA (Quality Assurance Agency), the body that monitors the quality standards of UK Universities.

Mediterranean College runs facilities in Athens, Glyfada & Thessaloniki in a contemporary learning environment, across 8 Academic Schools & Departments of Students' support (English Department, Student Affairs Office, Career Office, International Office, Counselling Centre, Academic Support Center, Alumni Office). Programmes are delivered in the Greek and English language and the offered disciplines are carefully selected to secure maximum career prospects. The College has established a comprehensive Employability Scheme to maximise its students' employability potential, which is based on professional career services, internships, and a wide network of corporate partners.
